Additional Student Housing To Be Constructed

With the increase in student head count the past few years, there has also been an increase in the demand for student housing. This semester, each of the dormitories is filled at 98 to 100 percent capacity. Apartment complexes adjacent to campus reflect similar occupancy rates. Currently, 2,199 students, or 35 percent of the student body, reside in on-campus and near-campus housing.

To avoid overcrowding in the future, Lynn Francis, the owner of Grand Valley Apartments, located south of campus near the water tower, is planning to expand.

Francis intends to add two or three buildings to the existing three-building complex. Each new building will contain 12 two-bedroom units.

In a report presented to the Board of Control earlier this month, Vice President for Administration Ronald VanSteele said Francis plans to begin construction in March or April.

GVSC Club to Feature Historical Perspectives

The GVSC Club will hold a series of three luncheon meetings focusing on the past, present, and future of GVSC.

On Wednesday, February 27, Stephen Ford, Donald Hall, Glenn Niemeyer, John Tevebaugh, and Arthur Hills will remember the 60's at GVSC in a presentation entitled "A View from the Ivory Tower."

Gerald Elliott will speak on "GVSC--A View from a Newsman's Perch" on Wednesday, March 20. Elliott served on Grand Valley's staff in the 1970's.

On Wednesday, April 17, President Lubbers will address the club on "Grand Valley in the 80's and Beyond--A Presidential View."

All three luncheon meetings will be held in the Portside Room, Kirkhof Center, at 11:30 a.m. with presentations beginning at 12:05 p.m. Guests may purchase lunch in the galley or bring their own. Coffee, tea, and water will be available.

Special Celebration Scheduled For Charter Day

GVSC's 25th Anniversary Celebration will culminate in a charter day observance to be held on Friday, April 26, with a convocation and luncheon. The guest speaker at the convocation will be William Simon.

Simon served as Secretary of the Treasury under President Gerald Ford and was also Administrator of the Federal Energy Office. Last summer he coordinated the Los Angeles Olympic Games as President of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

The luncheon will be held in the Field House following the convocation.

President Lubbers is urging all faculty and professional staff to participate in these events as well as in the commencement ceremonies which are scheduled for Saturday, May 11. James Zumberge, GVSC's first president will be the commencement speaker.

Faculty and staff may reserve caps and gowns for both ceremonies at college expense.

Reservations must be made through Ester Thomas at the bookstore, ext. 3299.

25th Anniversary Events Slated for March

Several events to be held as part of Grand Valley's 25th Anniversary Celebration are scheduled for March.

On Thursday, March 14, the fifty-voice Afro-American Choral Ensemble from Indiana University will perform in Louis Armstrong Theatre at 12 noon.

Also on March 14, Dr. Richard A. Cloward, a guest sponsored by the Social Sciences Division, will be on campus.

Cloward, a professor of social work at Columbia University, will give a public address entitled "The Fatal Flaw in Social Science Approach to the Study of Deviant Behavior" at 1:30 p.m. in Louis Armstrong Theatre.

At 7:30 p.m. Cloward will speak on "The Politics of Social Welfare in the Age of Working Class Decline" in Fountain Street Church, Grand Rapids.

Bayard Rustin, well-known civil rights leader, will give two addresses on Monday, March 25. At 12 noon he will speak on "From Protest to Politics" in Louis Armstrong Theatre, and at 7 p.m. he will appear in Fountain Street Church speaking on "From Race to Class."

On Thursday, March 28, Nobel Prize winner Dr. Linus Pauling will speak on "Vitamins and Better Health" at 8 p.m. in Louis Armstrong Theatre. Pauling's visit is sponsored by the Science and Mathematics Division.

Faculty and Staff Sketches

James Clover, associate professor of art and design, has a show of his wood polychrome reliefs at the Joy Horwich Gallery in Chicago, which opened January 23 and runs through February 28. He also had an exhibition of his work at the Space Gallery in Knauss Hall on the campus of Western Michigan University from February 5 through February 22.

Roger Ellis, associate professor of theatre in the School of Communications, has been invited to assist with the March production of Mozart's "Magic Flute," by Opera Grand Rapids. During the rehearsal period, Ellis will work as assistant to the director, Bodo Igesz, of New York's Metropolitan Opera. He will also perform in one of the non-singing roles in the opera.

Rosalyn Muskovitz, associate professor of art and design, has six prints in an exhibition at the Virginia M. McCune Community Arts Center in Petoskey from February 9 through March 8.

The Essay, "Lisel Mueller, Voyager and Visionary," by Professor Roberta Simone, associate professor of English, will appear in the forthcoming book, Women Poets of the Midwest.

Howard VandeVusse, director of purchasing, addressed the Grand Rapids Association of Purchasing and Minority Vendors in Southwest Michigan on February 12.

Auction 35 Gets Underway

The Volunteer Steering Committee for the 1985 Channel 35 TV Auction held their Kickoff Dinner Wednesday evening, February 6, at the Kent Country Club in Grand Rapids. This annual event honors the committee chairmen who will supervise more than 1,200 volunteers during the annual auction. This year's auction will air April 21-29 on Channels 35 and 52, with a goal of $355,000. During the nine evenings of this eleventh annual fund-raiser, over 3,000 items donated by 1,800 merchants and business people will be offered for bid.

Among the early donations of major gifts--items valued at $400 or more--are a woman's Concord quartz wristwatch in
