Faculty and Staff Notes

Dr. Samir T. IsHak, Professor of Public Administration, chaired a seminar on "Problems of Management in a Diversified Economy." The seminar was sponsored by Ain Shams University, College of Business, in Cairo, Egypt. Dr. IsHak spent six weeks this summer in Greece, Morocco, Kuwait, and Egypt on consulting assignments.

Dr. James Sanford, Director of the Graduate Taxation Program, represented Seidman College on September 16 in Memphis, Tennessee, at the eighth annual presentation of the F. E. Seidman Distinguished Award in Political Economy. The award was established by P. K. Seidman in memory of his brother, F. E. Seidman, to honor an economist who has contributed substantially to the development of political-social economics. This year's recipient was Dr. Richard A. Musgrave, of Harvard University. Previous recipients were Albert O. Hirschman, 1980; Arthur M. Okun, 1979; Arthur Frank Burns, 1978; Thomas Cromble Schelling, 1977; Kenneth Ewart Boulding, 1976; John Kenneth Galbraith, 1975; and Gunnar Karl Myrdal, 1974.

Dr. Jitendra M. Sharma, Professor of Management, participated in the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business Seminar, entitled "How Washington Operates: The Governmental Process," July 19-24, 1981, in Washington, D.C. The seminar was coordinated by our Washington Campus Program.

West Michigan Management

MEMO

The West Michigan Management Memo is published twice a year, in the spring and fall, and is sent to all contributors to the Enrichment Fund. Every two years a dinner is held to honor those leaders who helped found Grand Valley State and who by their interest and involvement continue to enrich the development of the institution as well as the quality of life in our community. The fund enables the Seidman College to support activities and programs designed to increase understanding of our economic system, facilitate exchanges of ideas between students, faculty and businessmen and, in general, enrich the business and academic communities. Persons interested in more information about the Memo, the published articles, or the Enrichment Fund should contact the Dean's Office, F. E. Seidman College of Business and Administration, Lake Huron Hall, Grand Valley State, telephone 895-6611, ext. 271.
