ARTS ON CAMPUS '69 -- Stimulating plans for the sixth annual salute to the arts at Grand Valley May 3 through 11 are moving ahead. Mark your calendar and plan to join us.

Events scheduled thus far include:

Sunday, May 4: Alexander Calder Exhibit, opening and reception during the afternoon. A representative exhibit of lithographs and gouaches, with some small mobiles and stabiles on loan from many sources will be on display in the Manitou Hall Art Gallery for one month.

Tuesday, May 6, 8:15 p.m.: Concert, GVSC Band under the direction of Daniel Kovats, asst. professor of music. Grand Traverse Room, Lake Michigan Hall.

Wednesday, May 7: The Millan Theatre Co., Detroit, will present "Tango" by Mrozek in the evening. The play is a modern farce, treating political problems in the manner of Shaw and Ionesco.

Thursday, May 8, 8:15 p.m.: Musical program featuring William Beidler and Julianne VandenWyngaard, GVSC music dept. faculty members and popular area entertainers. Room 123, Manitou Hall.

Friday, May 9, 4:30 p.m.: Richards Woodwind Quintet Clinic, open to all area band and orchestra directors and their students by reservation. For further details contact the GVSC music department.

Friday, May 9, 8:15 p.m.: Richards Woodwind Quintet Concert. The group, in residence at Michigan State Un. was organized in 1948 and is one of the first resident wind quintets in the U.S. Room 123, Manitou Hall.

Sunday, May 11: An evening performance by Tony Montanaro, mimist, a student of Marcel Marceau, Etienne Decroux, and Louise Gifford.

CALDER LITHOGRAPH -- Through the generosity of world-famed artist Alexander Calder, Grand Valley State College Friends of the Arts presents 75 signed and 425 unsigned commemorative lithographs for public acquisition. Inspired by the stabile in Vandenberg Plaza, Calder departs from his usual form by including architectural elements of the buildings surrounding the Plaza. The 19-1/2 x 25-1/2" prints are donated by the artist for the establishment of an endowment for the arts at GVSC.

Available to the public at $300 for a signed copy and $100 an unsigned copy, orders may be placed through the GVSC Public Relations Office, with an accompanying 50% down payment. Delivery of the lithographs is expected in early June.

SPRING TERM -- Registration for the GVSC Spring term will be held March 31 to April 1, lectures commence April 2. A selection of three timely evening courses will be offered:

Political Science 250, Public Administration. Tuesday and Thursday, 7-9 p.m., 210 Mackinac

Hall. Professor Samir T. IsHak.

Sociology 350, Urban Living. Monday and Wednesday, 7-9 p.m., 219 Mackinac Hall. Professor Curtis Jones.

Sociology 360, Sociology of Education. Tuesday and Thursday, 7-9 p.m., 219 Mackinac. Professor John Vonk.

Persons interested in evening class registration only may register at the college Records Office or with the professor during the first night of the course if there is room left in the class.

CONGRATULATIONS TO -- Eight GVSC students who will travel to northern England this fall to complete their junior year at the Un. of Lancaster. They were selected to participate in the new program by the Lancaster Program Committee, consisting of GVSC faculty, financial aid and student affairs members, from applications received up to Dec. 6, 1968. The academic year at Lancaster, located in the beautiful English Lake District, consists of three terms, October to June.

SPORTS -- GVSC's basketball team finished its first winning season with a 13-11 record. Grand Valley's senior forward Ed Crisman, Grand Rapids, completed his career at the college with 1,340 points in 76 games for a fine 17.6 point a game average.

Grand Valley's crew schedule this Spring will include, among others, meets with Wayne State, Marietta, the Un. of Minnesota, and N.Y. State Un. at Buffalo. Tentative start of the season will be a March 29 meet on GVSC's home waters at Riverside Park, Grand Rapids against Notre Dame. The crew will travel to Kansas State Un. on May 3 for the Mid-America College Rowing Association Regatta, and the Third Annual GVSC Regatta will be held May 24 on the Grand.

GVSC's baseball team begins its second official season with a doubleheader against Alma College April 5. The schedule also includes Grand Rapids Jr. College, Aquinas, Ferris, Northwood, Oakland, and Spring Arbor. Coach Hugo Salazar is hopeful the college's home field adjacent to the Fieldhouse will be ready early in the season.

GVSC FIELDHOUSE -- Interior finishing of sports areas is progressing well in the Fieldhouse and occupancy is planned for late Spring. The domed structure came through the structural load test early this month with flying colors. It was tested with hanging water-filled tanks at 150% of design load, or 50% more weight on its roof area than ever would be expected in the most severe conditions. Total test load suspended weight equaled 79 tons!

YEARBOOK WINS AWARD -- GVSC's 1968 Yearbook was chosen winner of the Michigan Collegiate Press Association competition in the small college (under 2,000 students) category. Hats off to Nancy Westcott Miller, student editor, and advisors Robert Hart, art director, Donald Hall, professor of physics, and Mary Seeger, professor of German.

INTER-DENOMINATIONAL SERVICES -- The GVSC Cooperative Campus Ministry Council is offering inter-denominational services at 6:30 p.m. on Sundays when the college is in session in room 301 Manitou Hall. Each service will be led by one of Grand Valley's campus ministers and will be open to all community residents.

WINTER TERM GRADUATES -- Forty GVSC students graduated at the end of the term, eighteen received the B.A. degree and twenty-two the B.S. degree. Seventeen also received Michigan teaching certification.

Robert Woerner, Grand Haven, gained the fine distinction of being the first student to graduate with a 4.00, all-A, average in his four-year course work at Grand Valley. Woerner received the B.A. degree, English major, and secondary teaching certification.

PRESENTATION -- GVSC School of General Studies presented a collection of 14 prints, lithographs, woodcuts and etchings to the college on March 6. The collection was made possible through proceeds from the William Doppmann piano concert held in October 1968 at the Grand Haven Community Center.
