From the Editor

by Myrna Webb

The annual Leadership Training Conference was held on June 5-6 at Higgins Lake. The participants gained both knowledge and insight into their roles as leaders of the Local Reading Councils. Congratulations to participants and the Michigan Reading Association on a job well done.

This issue of the Michigan Reading Journal is intended to provide knowledge for "Becoming a State of Strategic Readers". I think you will find the articles informative and stimulating as we move forward with the "New Reading Philosophy". Please note that the articles are written by teachers who have applied their knowledge in the classroom.

A special thanks to Elaine Weber and the State Department of Education Curriculum Review Committee for the articles submitted. The author's are also all members of MRA.

If you have an article you wish to submit for review, please send it to me at the address listed on the first page of this journal. Articles should be 6-8 pages in length. Please include a brief description of your job and school district or university.

"When an archer misses the mark, he turns and looks for the fault within himself. Failure to hit the bull's-eye is never the fault of the target. To improve your aim — improve yourself."
