And in Opening

The groundwork laid by our first Editor, Charles F. Sherwood, has provided excellent guidance for us as we assume Co-Editorship of the Journal. But now that we have assumed this responsibility, we must plan for the future. These plans include active participation by members; that is, submitting manuscripts to the Journal.

This issue is being mailed to all 1967-68 members of the Michigan Reading Association. In order to receive the Winter issue, however, be sure that you renew your membership for the 1968-69 year. A membership application is included on page sixty.

As a chapter of the International Reading Association, we encourage you to join the parent organization. Membership in this organization provides opportunities for securing excellent professional publications.
