2016

Her brothers told her to yell if there was a snake, but she didn't see him

Michelle Kuznicki
Grand Valley State University

Follow this and additional works at: http://scholarworks.gvsu.edu/fishladder

Recommended Citation
Kuznicki, Michelle (2016) "Her brothers told her to yell if there was a snake, but she didn't see him," Fishladder: A Student Journal of Art and Writing: Vol. 14: Iss. 1, Article 11.
Available at: http://scholarworks.gvsu.edu/fishladder/vol14/iss1/11

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by ScholarWorks@GVSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Fishladder: A Student Journal of Art and Writing by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@GVSU. For more information, please contact scholarworks@gvsu.edu.
Michelle Kuznicki

Her brothers told her to yell if there was a snake, but she didn't see him

The neon church sign lights his face as they grind in the back seat of her car hands ripping the band of her panties, she giggles at his strength and takes him in

(he tastes of saltwater taffy & gun powder)

He covers his face with her hands

she pulls her teeth inside her gums trying to leave no marks, he has a woman back home who washes his skin with wine and rye bread

(he smells of thunder & dandelion blood)

shhh shhh shhh

She asks herself if this is what Eve felt, as he places his hands over her mouth, bruising boysenberry skin. She asks why God would make someone so dangerously sweet.

(he felt like fish scales & tree bark)